

The Royal Lawn Mower

Keeping up the appearance of the lawn, before the ROYAL LAWN MOWER arrived was one of man's most arduous tasks. The light running and perfect cutting of this wonderful machine makes it now a pleasant duty. Although the ROYAL doesn't cut much ice, it's a wonder on grass. Perfect running, ball bearing throughout and easily adjusted.

First cost a little above some mowers, but saves money and good dispositions in the long run. Oil cans and other accessories furnished with each machine without extra charge.

Besides the ROYAL we have many other makes of mowers, ranging in prices from $5.00 to $18.00, and have a stock to suit everybody in price and quality.

Grass catchers adjusted to any machine. Call and see them.

A CHOICE CHRISTMAS GIFT

Is always a perplexing problem that affects both the purse and the ingenuity in taxing measure. "Something suitable for a gentleman something not too expensive but that doesn't look cheap." If the present is useful, too, it adds much to the value of the gift and the remembrance of the giver. This for either sex is a question that puzzles most of us at this season.

WHY NOT A TOILET SET
USEFUL, DURABLE, TASTEFUL, and as we sell them
— NOT EXPENSIVE. —

We have them in all varieties. Dainty BRUSHES for ladies' fingers and lengthy locks; MILITARY BRUSHES for the sterner sex; HAND MIRRORS, indispensable to the gentler sex; COMBS, the oldest and perhaps most necessary of all toilet articles.

IN EBONOID, with or without sterling silver initial plates and mountings, all valuable, ranging in price from $1.50 to the set.

IN "COSMETON," the new material, oxidized or bright, engraved in tasteful designs. The brushes and combs are light, unbreakable and the metal will never tarnish. They are easily cleaned, another desideratum in these "dandruff days."

FIGHTING THE DEAL

St. Paul, Nov. 16.—A special to the Pioneer Press from Winona, Minn., says:

Governor Van Sant came down from St. Paul this afternoon. When asked regarding the incorporation of the Northern Securities Company in New North, he made the following statement:

"The great railway deal in New York, having for its object the uniting of two great competing and parallel lines—the Northern Pacific and Great Northern—is a matter of great public interest. There is justly a widespread opposition to it in our State. I do not know if it can be prevented, but it is my intention to ask Attorney General Douglas upon his return to bring suit in the name of the State to prevent, if possible, the consolidation of the Great Northern and Northern Pacific Railroads. It is clearly in open violation of the plain intent and purpose of the law."

"If, under existing laws, the consolidation cannot be prevented, I feel that I would be justified in calling an extra session of the Legislature to take the necessary steps to resist it. If it could be accomplished by this means, I believe it to be my plain duty. I shall leave no stone unturned to prevent this contemplated consolidation. Owing to the great interest of our State and people at stake, I should and will be a fight to a finish. If the will of the people of Minnesota can be trampled upon in this manner, the sooner this fact is ascertained and understood the better."

How will it be if there we find no trace—
There in the Golden Heaven if we find No memories of the old Earth left behind.
No visions of familiar forms and faces—
Reminders of old voices and old places? Yet could we hear it if it should remind?

—Edwin Markham.

A VERY HAPPY CROWD

To say that the Bulletin newboys had a good time yesterday is putting it very mildly. They had a howling time and the eighty youngsters who filled the two busses to overflowing yesterday have voted the Bulletin an excellent host.

The boys were at the Bulletin office long before the time announced and when those in charge of their celebration got around at 10 o'clock, it was all they could do to get into the front door. The boys wanted their good time and wanted it quickly, program or no program.

Finally, a few seconds were found when the boys were reasonably quiet and then their picture was taken.

At 11 o'clock sharp the busses started out to Waikiki with the air simply receding before them by blasts of tin horns in the puffed-out mouths of the boys. From Waikiki the boys came back to town, stuffed down a lot of stuffed turkey and soda water and then announced their readiness to continue the noise-making trip about the town. It is sufficient to say that the trip was made. The people of the city will tell anyone that.

At the football game, the boys made the umpire and referee say things they are not in the habit of saying. Nobody could touch them. They were perched high and they had all kinds of feathers in their caps.

When the football game was over, the boys came back to the Bulletin office and disbanded amidst tin blare of tin horns.

MOANA HOTEL DINNER.

There was a big time out at the Moana Hotel evening. The dining room was beautifully decorated with flowers and all manner of palms and ferns. In front of the music stand, above the sideboard, were American and Hawaiian flags intertwined, and from this place went forth the sweet strains of Hawaiian music.

In one of the makai corners was a special table set for a party of Navy officers. Above this was an American flag. Members of the party were as follows: Admiral and Mrs. Evans, Admiral Glass, Captain Thomas, Captain Cooper, Captain Harrington, and Captain J. F. Merry, commandant of the Naval Station.

The menu card was a unique design printed in gilt letters on a dark ground. In the left-hand upper corner of some of the cards was a photograph of the hotel, and on others a couple of turkeys.

SKIPPERS SHOOT TURKEYS.

The shooting party of the captains in port at Waianae yesterday was a great success. Many goats were slaughtered and about twenty-five fine turkeys were captured. The hunters did not return to town in time to eat the game which they took and today turkey is glut on the water front.

Captain Curtis of the W. H. Mearns has ten on the ice and he was looking for people to give them away. To Captain Kelley of the Mohican after killing more goats than any other of the party captured a kid alive and brought it to town with him. He has it aboard the vessel now and claims that he will always have fresh butter aboard as long as the goat remains.

W. H. McLean, P. S. Peachy and C. V. Keenan will leave for San Francisco tomorrow in the bark Mohican. Captain Kelley, the genial skipper of the vessel, is preparing for a very enjoyable trip to the Coast.

The Wooden Horse.
Torture on a grand scale went on with Feltton, the assassin of Buckingham, but torture on a small scale continued to be practiced on military offenders down to the eighteenth century. The form most frequently resorted to was that known as the wooden horse, to ride which was the punishment accorded for petty thefts, insubordination and so on. The wooden horse was made of planks nailed together so as to form a sharp ridge or angle about eight or nine feet long. This ridge represented the back of a horse and was supported by four posts or legs about five feet high placed on a stand made movable by truckles. To complete the resemblance to the noblest animal in creation head and tail were added.

When a soldier was sentenced, either by court martial or by his commanding officer, to ride the horse, he was placed on the brute's back, with his hands tied behind him, and frequently enough in order to increase the pain, muskets were fastened to his legs to weigh them down, or, as was jokingly said, to prevent the fiery, untamed, bareback steed from kicking him off.—London Graphic.
